Will Rogers Was Great Worker For the Red Cross

DID YOU KNOW THAT Will Rogers was a great worker for the American Red Cross?

It is fitting at this time, when the Red Cross drive is in progress in this county, to tell you something about the great American humorist and his connections with the Red Cross from 1926 until his untimely death nine years later. During that period he gave of his time, his energy and of his own funds whenever the Red Cross was faced with emergency.

No one can estimate the amount of money Will Rogers raised for various Red Cross relief funds through his appeals in the press, on the platform and over the radio, but the amount must have been well into the millions of dollars.

His first association with the organization was in September, 1926, while aboard the Leviathan en route to the United States from Europe. Informed that the Red Cross was engaged in a $5,000,000 fund campaign for relief of the thousands of sufferers of a great Florida hurricane, he immediately went to work.

With the help of a fellow passenger, Charles Evans Hughes, later chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, he organized a shipboard benefit concert, and raised $40,610. Included was his personal contribution of $1,000.

IN LATER YEARS he went to bat for the Red Cross in raising funds for the relief of the families of the 61 miners killed in the McAlester, Okla., mine explosion; for the drought victims of 1930-31; and for the victims of the gigantic Mississippi river floods of 1932.

However, his efforts were not restricted to the continental U. S. In April, 1931, he flew to Nicaragua to talk to Red Cross relief workers and inspect the devastation left by an earthquake. While there he contributed $5,000 to the relief fund. Later he went to Panama and gave two benefit performances for the same fund.

In 1933 he gave $25,000 to Red Cross to be used as a fund to aid itinerant nursing services which were in danger of lapsing through lack of funds in the communities supporting them. The $25,000 was half the amount he received for a series of broadcasts by a big oil company.

Receiving a personal thank-you note from Chairman John Payne for the generous gesture, Rogers replied: "Don't thank me, thank the oil company or better still the listeners. They will be the sufferers."

Reveal Plans For Firing 12 Into Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee voted $19,262,000 today to build, launch and track for a year or more man's first earth satellites.

Scientists said what they learn from the experiments will be worth billions of dollars in weather forecasting, air transportation, radio communications and navigation.

The fund — every cent that was requested for the satellite work — was included in a 26-million-dollar appropriation for U. S. participation in the 1957-58 International Geophysical Year.

The total IGY allowance was two million dollars less than was sought by the National Science Foundation, which directs this country's share of the cooperative world scientific effort.

The committee said the new allowance, with 12 million dollars previously appropriated, will provide 38 million dollars for the program, and that this is all the scientists can wisely spend in the period.

Testimony before the appropriations group disclosed that the United States now plans to launch 12 satellites, in the hope that at least 8 will "hang up" and whirl through space at 18,000 miles per hour for weeks, months, or even a year or two.

Their firing, in three-stage rockets that will carry them from 200 to 800 miles into space, will signify "that mankind is now seriously embarked upon the exploration of outer space," the committee was told.

The IGY fund was included in a supplemental appropriation bill carrying $795,743,823 to tide over to July 1 a variety of government agencies. President Eisenhower had asked a total of $835,902,923.

Last year's pay raise for government workers accounted for much of the money. An extra 100 million dollars was provided for federal highway aid, totaling 740 million dollars the total available for this purpose in the current fiscal year.

In another action, the committee approved three million dollars as requested for construction of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial in St. Louis.

1,884 Chest X-Rays Taken Here By Mobile Unit

The TB Mobile Chest x-ray unit will be in Eldorado Friday and Saturday, March 16 and 17, and Eldorado residents are urged to take advantage of this service. The purpose of the Chest x-ray program is to find unknown cases of tuberculosis in Saline county and to prevent victims from innocently spreading the disease to others.

The program is sponsored by the Egyptian Health department, the Saline County Tuberculosis association and the Saline County Medical society.

March 6 the mobile was in Carrier Mills and a total of 470 persons were x-rayed. On March 7 the unit was in Galatia and 265 were x-rayed. The unit was in Harrisburg Thursday, Friday and Saturday and a total of 1884 residents were x-rayed; 477 on Thursday, 660 on Friday and 747 on Saturday.

State Rabies Law Adopted by County Board

Dr. H. N. Jarvis Named to Post Of Inspector

The Saline County Board of Supervisors this morning inaugurated the state rabies law program for the county and named Dr. H. N. Jarvis, Harrisburg veterinarian, as county rabies inspector.

The law, which provides that all dogs not kept confined be inoculated against rabies once each year, also provides for the appointment of an inspector and deputy inspectors, all of whom must be licensed veterinarians. Licensed veterinarians present at the meeting this morning as follows—Dr. William Prusaczyk of Harrisburg and Dr. James H. Johnson and Dr. C. E. Reeder, both of Eldorado.

The veterinarians brought with them to the board meeting, Herbert Holmes, representative of a veterinarians' serum company, who with the veterinarians explained the law.

Vaccinations Higher

They said that veterinarians were unable to secure their vaccination tags until the program was set up.

They said that even if they gave vaccinations, they would be unofficial vaccinations unless the county adopted the program and the tags were secured.

Setting up of the program will mean that vaccinations will be higher in the future, as the county will get $1 on every vaccination. This amount was voted this morning.

Under the law, the county clerk will order tags, which cost $3.50 per thousand, and sell them to the veterinarians at $1 each to maintain the program of catching and holding loose, unvaccinated dogs.

The veterinarians will add the $1 to his cost for administering the shot. Tags will not be available for another three weeks.

No Salary for Job

Veterinarians present this morning said they intended to charge $1.50 for each vaccination as their fee, which with the $1 county charge added means that the vaccinations will be $2.50.

Costs of financing the program according to the law were discussed at length. Holmes pointed out that most counties charge $1 per day for impounding a dog picked up, plus the vaccination fee, as the dog must be vaccinated before it is released, plus a $1 fine which goes to the county.

He said that setting up machinery for picking up and holding the dogs was a matter for the county. It was not decided upon this morning.

The board, in naming an inspector, voted that there would be no salary connected with the job. That means the inspector and deputies will get their compensation from their vaccination charges.

Gunman Takes $5,239 In Second Holdup Of Evansville Firm

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A gunman took $5,239 in his second holdup of the North Side Federal Savings & Loan Assn. within a month Wednesday.

Cashier Barbara Stewart, 18, who was confronted with the bandit's chrome plated gun in a hold-up at the firm on Feb. 16, said she was "sure it was the very same guy." In the earlier holdup, the bandit, accompanied by a male companion, fled with $8,709.

First Major Clue Found in Boys' Slayings

CHICAGO (AP)—Police asked the people of Chicago today to help them follow up the first major break in their manhunt for the sadistic killers of three young schoolboys.

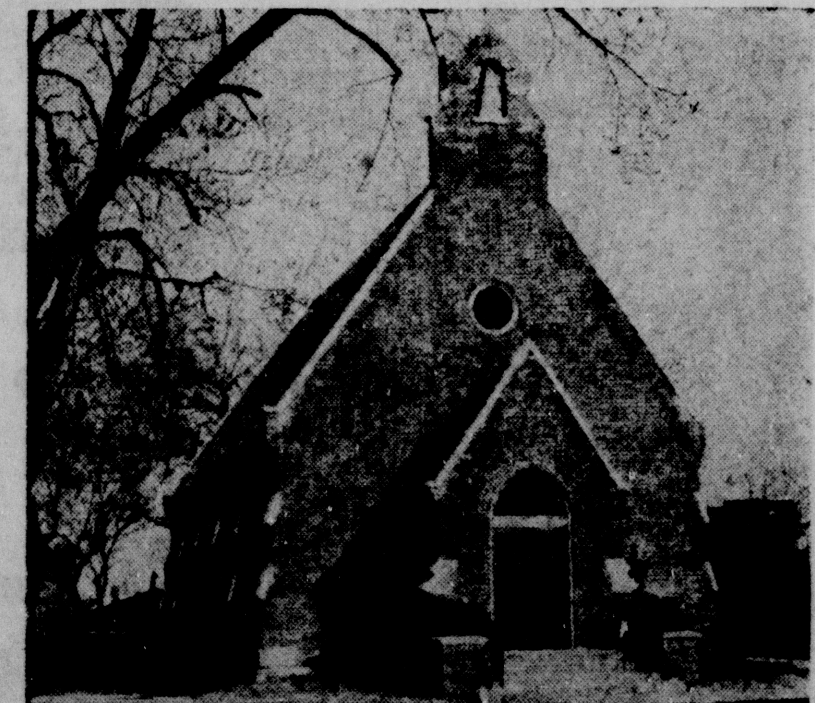

The clue consisted of microscopic fragments of an unusual kind of steel which were found underneath the fingernails of one of the murdered boys.

Lt. Patrick Deeley, chief of detectives, said they indicated that the boys were probably murdered in a metalworking shop last Oct. 16 or that their bodies had been hidden in such a shop before they were discovered Oct. 18.

He credited some of Chicago's top scientific brains and two world famed laboratories with nailing down the evidence. He asked the Chicago public to help take it from there.

Anybody knowing where the rare steel — AISI austenitic stainless steel Nos. 309 or 310 — is being used should telephone police, Deeley said, and "then we may be on our way to catching the murderers."

Within four hours after Deeley's plea Wednesday police had received more than 100 telephone calls offering information. The response was telling proof of Chicagoans' determination to catch the killers of Robert Peterson, 13, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11.

Horn Tooting a Luxury in N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Horn tooting became an expensive luxury in New York City today. The price: $10 and up.

The luxury price tag went on honking at 12:01 a. m. as part of a drive to bring quiet to the city's blaring, bustling streets.

Police had orders to hand out summonses to anyone caught tooting a horn. A summons automatically requires a trip to court and a fine ranging from $10 to $50.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner proclaimed March 15 "Q-Day" in celebration of the occasion and posed Wednesday with his forefinger to his lips while holding a sign with the legend: "Don't Be A Goose! Hold That Honk."

Dennis Excuses Jury Until Further Notice

County Judge Trafton Dennis today excused a county court jury until further notice after a case scheduled for this morning was continued. Two pleas of guilty were received in other cases before court was adjourned.

Scheduled to be heard today was a case against Jones Winston, charged with illegal sale of alcoholic liquor. His lawyer, Lloyd H. Melton, said he was ready for trial, but the prosecution was not. The chief witness for the prosecution, it was announced, was out of state and could not be secured for today.

Dennis excused the jury, telling the jurors they would be informed by letter when to appear again. He said that he would have to secure another judge to hear two cases, as he had a part in them before he was elected county judge.

Pleading guilty today were: Billy Jordan, fined $200 and costs and placed on probation for one year on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor; Finus Stevens, sentenced to a year on the Vandalia state farm, then placed on probation for a year with the sentence suspended.

He was charged with writing a fraudulent check but had made restitution. He was ordered to pay the costs in the case.

Child Dies After Drinking Anti-Freeze

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP)—An autopsy was to be conducted today into the death of 2-year-old Edwin Craig, who died in St. Anthony's Hospital Wednesday an hour after he drank a quantity of anti-freeze in his Greenup home.

An inquest into the death was scheduled at Greenup Friday.

Widow Blames Husband's Death on Man's Refusal to Yield Phone for Emergency

FAIRFAX, Calif. (AP)—A grief-stricken widow today blamed the death of her husband on the refusal of a man who shares her party line to let her call for help.

Mrs. Jerry L. Smith said her husband, a 36-year-old restaurant cook, died of a heart attack Sunday night because medical help arrived too late.

Mrs. Smith said her husband began suffering chest pains and had difficulty breathing. She called the family doctor. When her husband began to "change color," she went to the telephone again intending to tell the doctor to hurry. When she lifted the receiver off the hook to place the call, she heard a man's voice say angrily: "We can't even carry on a conversation without being interrupted."

Despite her pleas, the man insisted on finishing his conversation before hanging up.

Meanwhile, Smith had grown worse and was near death. Mrs. Smith went to the telephone to ask the Fairfax fire department to send a respirator crew. The line was busy again. She begged to place a call.

"What are you trying to pull?" the man snarled. "I just gave you the line."

The man stopped talking, but apparently left the receiver off the hook. Mrs. Smith had to jiggle the hook for several minutes to attract the attention of the operator, who called the fire department.

Moments later, the doctor and the fire department arrived. By then Smith was dead.

MIAMI (AP)—A woman who refused to quit talking on a party line while a neighbor tried frantically to phone an ambulance for a dying heart attack victim said Wednesday night "it was all a misunderstanding."

The stricken man, 86-year-old G. T. Lenelin, died a short time after being taken to a hospital.

Mrs. Ann Heidenrich, who had refused to get off the line, said she was "very upset" when she found out that it was an emergency call and that Lenelin had died.

Lenelin collapsed from a heart attack in the front yard of Mrs. Florence Apelt. Mrs. Apelt said she tried to place an emergency call for 10 minutes but that Mrs. Heidenrich refused to stop talking.

Police obtained a warrant charging Mrs. Heidenrich with disorderly conduct. She will be tried Monday in city court.

Stevenson Must Show Strength in Minnesota or Campaign May Stall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some hard-headed Democrats voiced the belief today that Adlai E. Stevenson must win and win big in Minnesota next week to keep his presidential campaign from stalling.

Post mortems on Tuesday's New Hampshire primary indicated that Stevenson backers here were shaken by his weak showing against Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Although Stevenson had refused a direct test in New Hampshire, his supporters had expected him to poll a larger vote in the primary contests over national convention delegates. Kefauver won all 12 of the New Hampshire delegates against a Stevenson slate, which was regarded as strong but polled only a third of the vote.

"His Work Cut Out"

Democratic attention now was swinging to Minnesota, where both Stevenson and Kefauver will be campaigning for the balance of the week. Minnesota Democrats will elect 30 national convention delegates in their presidential primary next Tuesday.

Just as Kefauver was favored in New Hampshire, Stevenson is favored in Minnesota, where he has the support of the state Democratic organization. But Kefauver is expected to get a psychological lift from his New Hampshire victory.

Looking toward Minnesota, one Stevenson backer in the Senate gave this private estimate: "Kefauver can afford to lose. Stevenson can't. Stevenson has his work cut out for him. He must win Minnesota decisively."

May Look for Dark Horse

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, is generally viewed as the front runner in the 1956 nomination. If Kefauver, a lone wolf campaigner, can stop the former Illinois governor, Democrats will be confronted with the question of where they should look next.

Kefauver may corral a sizable number of national convention delegates in the primaries. There is no indication yet that he would be any more acceptable than in 1952 to fellow senators and big city machines which wield great power at the conventions. Hence if Stevenson falters, many Democrats will survey the field of dark horses. One of these is Sen. Stuart Symington, who may be Missouri's favorite son candidate. And more attention would be given to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, who has given no encouragement so far to Democrats who would like to nominate him.

Action Means Higher Price Aid For Crops

First Administration Setback in Fight For New Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted today to continue the dual parity formula for figuring price supports of farm crops.

It turned back, 45-44, an administration attempt to amend the farm bill so that price supports would have been calculated on the so-called modern parity formula.

Then the Senate nailed down its decision by voting, 49-42, to table a motion to reconsider the parity vote.

The dual parity formula means higher price supports for corn, cotton, wheat and peanuts. Wheat would benefit the most, 13 cents a bushel.

It was the first major administration setback in the Senate fight over a new farm bill.

One Major Issue Left

Voting for the single parity formula were 35 Republicans and 9 Democrats. Voting against single parity were 10 Republicans and 35 Democrats.

The vote on the parity formula amendment left only one major issue in the farm bill fight. It involved an administration attempt to eliminate from the bill a provision for an increase in dairy price supports.

The parity issue was voted on in the first roll call of a 12-hour session called to speed Senate action on the legislation.

The administration was particularly anxious to get the proposed $1,000,000,000 soil bank into operation. Under it, farmers would be paid for letting corn, cotton, peanuts, rice, tobacco and wheat land lie idle and for diverting other crop lands to conservation grasses or trees.

Farm experts feared that the soil bank would fall short of its acreage goals if farmers had to plow up already-planted crops in order to participate in the new program.

Plans Long Session Friday

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said he would call another long session Friday and an unusual Saturday session, if necessary, in an all-out effort to get a final vote on the farm bill this week. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said he believed action on the measure could be completed Friday.

The bill still will have to be acted upon by a House-Senate conference committee to iron out differences over the legislation by the two houses and then approved.

What Are They Studying?

What with all the current stir over this country's failure to produce enough scientists and engineers, one might fairly assume that American college youth is directing its studious attention to such matters as English, the story of government and politics, the nation's history, and economics.

Not according to the dean of the Columbia University Law School, William C. Warren. He says with even the most careful selective process his school is unable to find more than a few law students who can read quickly, understandingly and retentively; write and speak grammatically and precisely; use a dictionary properly; exhibit even a fair knowledge of history, politics and economics.

Survey of a recent entering class showed less than half had taken history courses above the college freshman level, that only a fifth had studied any government or economics at all.

If these findings should prove to be general for the country, then the time will have arrived to ask in all gravity: "WHAT are our college students studying that has any lasting value?"

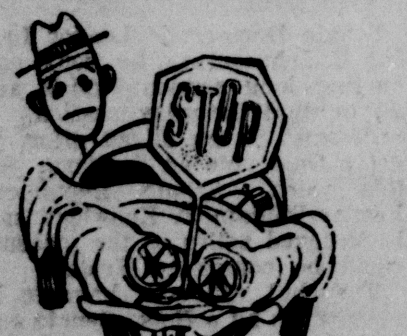

Coal Production Off in State

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Illinois coal production slipped to 4,620,948 tons in February, the State Mines and Minerals Department reported today.

February production was 197,629 tons less than the January tonnage, but 177,257 tons greater than for February, 1955.

Accidents killed 4 miners and injured 106 during the month, bringing the 1956 totals to 9 fatalities and 227 injuries. The deaths occurred in mines in Williamson, Jefferson and Franklin counties.

A total of 12,341 miners were employed in February, compared to 12,131 in January.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Senator McClellan won't Dig Too Deep Into Gas-Oil Lobby; Senator Bridges and Johnson Won't Have To Worry About McClellan's Zeal; Republicans Want Ike To Do A Campaign TV Commercial.

WASHINGTON. — Inside fact about the selection of Sen. John McClellan of Arkansas as chairman of the select Senate committee to investigate the gas-oil lobby is that this was always the secret play which the Republicans and Sen. Lyndon Johnson had up their sleeves.

McClellan even confided to newsmen in advance that the Republicans had offered him the committee chairmanship.

Obviously they would not have done this if they hadn't been sure that "Honest John," who has voted Republican on crucial issues almost as often as he has Democratic, would steer clear of any investigating avenues that led to big GOP oil-gas contributions or that might embarrass pro-gas Democrats.

All you have to do is look over McClellan's background to understand how little the oil-gas lobby needs to be worried over his investigative zeal.

First, McClellan's law firm represents Standard Oil of New Jersey, The Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware, Tidewater Associated Oil and Carter Oil Company, in addition to several railroads, paper and lumber companies. This is taken from the authoritative Law Directory, Martindale and Hubbell, which also lists McClellan's firm as handling the "general practice of oil and gas titles."

LYNDON'S FRIEND

In addition, McClellan is on friendly terms with H. L. Hunt, one of the three or four wealthiest oilmen in the world, who got his start at El Dorado, Ark. McClellan was generously backed by Hunt and the oil interests during his election campaign in 1954, and it's not likely that he will want to go into the manner in which gas-oil money has been spent in any senator's election because others might then suggest that he also probe his own contributors too.

McClellan is also heavily obligated to Lyndon Johnson. For during his 1954 primary race against popular ex-Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas, Lyndon got up for McClellan a petition signed by more than 40 other senators telling the people of Arkansas how important McClellan was to the U. S. Senate. This was in violation of the accepted rule that Democratic senators do not become involved in Democratic primaries against other Democrats.

McClellan had so much money to spend, thanks to oil-gas backing, that he used $35,000,000 alone for a newspaper ad reprinting the Lyndon Johnson-inspired letter from senators; also spent $50,000 reprinting the letter in pamphlet form for circularization all over the state.

Thinking It Over—For Lent

By Robert Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

The pressure on one's ears can be very painful when one rises or drops in an elevator, or in an airplane if the cabin is not pressurized. We have learned to open our mouths in order to equalize the pressure on the eardrums and relieve the pain. This relief is easily accomplished unless we have colds or some block in the passages to the ears.

We are living in a world of great emotional and mental pressure. Every day we are beset with worries, fears, concerns and scores of strains which threaten our equilibrium.

Some people have not found any means of balancing the outer forces which press upon them with an inner power of outgiving. They find themselves in hospitals with physical or emotional breakdowns.

Many thousands of people who have felt the external pressures of the world causing them pain and suffering have opened their mouths—not just in casual yawns but with real purpose. They have opened their mouths to God in prayer. They have found an equalizing inner power which has made it possible to bear the pressures bearing down on them.

We can find comfort in the midst of stress and strain by talking things over with God. Why don't we try prayer and see what happens?

Evergreen Garden Club Has Program On State Parks

The Evergreen Garden club met at the home of Mrs. K. C. Capel Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. John W. Towle as assistant hostess.

Fifteen members answered roll call by naming an old fashioned flower that "grandmother had in her garden."

There were three guests present: Mrs. Robert Miley, Mrs. John Alban of Shreveport, and George Culleton who is with the conservation program of the state of Illinois. Mrs. Miley gave the lesson entitled "Our State Parks" which was quite interesting, and Mr. Culleton showed several beautiful slides of the parks in Illinois. The program proved informative to the members of the Garden club who are planning their annual tour.

It was announced that the regional meeting of the Garden clubs will be held at Anna March 29.

Refreshments of Cokes and home-made cookies were served.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. L. B. Kimmel.

Another son, Cecil Jr., Norfolk, Va., is also at home after receiving his discharge from the U. S. Navy.

Health and Safety Program By B. & P. W. Club

The Harrisburg Business & Professional Women's club met Tuesday evening in the fellowship hall of the First Christian church for the monthly business session and program.

Miss Meriam Evans, president, presided during the business at which time members again were reminded of the meeting of District 13 which will be held this evening in Fairfield at the El Rancho Motel. Those indicating that they plan to attend were Mrs. Zola Y. Sloan, Mrs. Nelle Meyers, Mrs. Mary Lois Dabney, Mrs. Annabelle Melton, Miss Mary Richardson, Miss Iris Craggs and Miss Evans.

Mrs. Meyers, chairman of the Health and Safety committee, presented an enjoyable and instructive program. She urged every member to have a physical check-up once a year, get her blood typed and carry her type card with her always; have a tuberculosis test and added rather humorously that she should wear shoes that have been properly fitted. She mentioned the necessity of being a courteous driver and know the rules of the road. Being physically fit also is essential to good driving, she said. Several "booby traps" in the home were mentioned, such as small rugs, faulty light cords and insufficient lighting of stairways, etc. She completed her talk by mentioning the state's requirements of safety measures to entrances and exits to public buildings and homes.

Miss Kay Missner of Indianapolis, Ind., was a guest of Mrs. Meyers at the evening's program.

The April meeting will be an exchange program presented by the McLeansboro club here in Harrisburg, it was announced by Mrs. Edna Lewis, program chairman.

A social period was held during which the members exchanged Mystery Pal gifts. Delicious refreshments of pudding, coffee and Cokes, carrying out the theme of St. Patrick's Day, were served to the following: Thelma Webb, Marchetta Lambert, Lodema Sisk, Barbara Reynolds, Imogene Dixon, Mary Wilkinson, Norma Keen, Novella Sherrod and daughter, Nancy, Nora Price and the hostess, Wilma Grable.

Senate Action May Boost Shipments Of Surplus Food

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mercy shipments of surplus American food to hungry families abroad may be sharply increased under a little-noticed amendment to the Senate farm bill, church leaders said today.

The Senate adopted the amendment by voice vote late Wednesday. It authorizes Foreign Aid Administrator John B. Hollister to spend up to 500 million dollars during the current and coming fiscal years on shipments of surplus farm commodities and other relief programs.

This represents an increase of 200 million dollars in funds earmarked for this purpose. But the major significance of the amendment, according to religious leaders, is that it authorizes Hollister to allocate any portion of the money to pay ocean freight on surplus foods which the Agriculture Department has made available free to private relief organizations for distribution to the needy overseas.

Officials of church-sponsored relief agencies had said previously that a lack of funds for ocean freight was severely limiting the "Share Our Surplus" program.

Predict 82 Million Cars on Highways Within Next 10 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council predicted today that 10 years from now the nation's highways will be jammed with 82 million cars.

This would be 20 million more than are on the road today. The traffic death toll will run around 53,000 in 1966, the council estimated, unless the nation's motorists mend their ways.

Suitor Kills Widow, Fatally Wounds Self

SAVANNA, Ill. (AP)—A persistent suitor shot and killed a 44-year-old widow, threatened to kill three more persons, and then fatally wounded himself Wednesday night.

The dead were Mrs. Maybelle Tenney, a widow of less than a month, and her suitor, Paul Donovan, an unemployed truck driver. He died of the self-inflicted wound early today.

Malenkov Visits Britain to Tour Power Plants

LONDON (AP)—Former Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov arrived in London today for a tour of Britain's electric and atomic power installations. It was his first trip to a free country outside the Iron Curtain.

His arrival was cloaked by strict security arrangements. Scotland Yard made it hard for anyone to get a peek at him through a thicket of elaborate safeguards as he flew in from East Berlin.

But Malenkov chose to crack the capitalist protection screen by scheduling an airport news conference immediately.

A sound truck patrolled the highway outside the airport blaring "Keep the Red beasts out," when his plane landed.

As Soviet minister of electric power stations, Malenkov is here for a three-week tour of power facilities at the invitation of the British central electrical authority.

Meets Eight Newsmen
Malenkov waved his hat as he stepped onto British soil. He shook hands with Jones and Lord Citrine as Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik beamed.

Malenkov met eight selected newsmen at the conference. He told them his mission was "to acquire knowledge of the system of public power supply and the operation of public power stations."

But he added that his visit would "doubtless make for strengthening of business ties."

The all-out security net not only was to protect Malenkov but to test the strategy for guarding Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev next month when they arrive for a 10-day state visit.

Bulganin and Khrushchev are coming on an invitation handed them by Prime Minister Anthony Eden at the Geneva "summit" conference last summer. Malenkov is on an officially "private visit."

Patients Flee to Safety as Fire Burns State Hospital Building

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—Several hundred mental patients fled to safety early today as fire virtually destroyed the 103-year-old administration building at the state hospital for the insane here.

In near-freezing weather, the patients left the building quietly and without panic. Attendants said some seemed totally unconcerned while others acted with calm self-possession. There were no deaths or injuries.

E. E. Racland, state director of mental diseases, estimated it would cost from two to three million dollars to replace the building and repair the damage from fire, smoke and water.

Rollins, Nolen Named to Chicago American Team

The Chicago American today announced its All-Southern Illinois all-star basketball team and two players from this immediate area are included.

Oliver Rollins, the "big cat" from Carrier Mills and Jack Nolen, Shawneetown's star center, are listed on the 16-player squad.

Other players on the all-star squad are Terry Bethel, Collinsville; Richard Brooks, E. St. Louis; Jim Dorris, Centralia; Jarrell Graham, Mt. Vernon; Alan Cosnell, Lawrenceville; Glenn Graff, Duplo; Mannie Jackson, Edwardsville.

Richard Jones, Herrin; Don Margenthaler, Pinckneyville; Russ Martin, Carbondale; Ed Perry, Salem; Gary Phillips, Quincy; Cliff Talley, Wood River, and Gene Veloff, Alton.

Among those receiving outstanding mention were: Governor Vaughn, Edwardsville; Ivan Jefferson, Herrin; Alex Singer, Pinckneyville; Robert Taylor, Metropolis; John Tidwell, Herrin; Ron Winter, Carmi, and Don Griffin, West Frankfort.

Rollins and Jackson were repeaters on the squad, having been named to the 1955 all-star group by the American.

The newspaper also picked a "Little All-Southern" and it included Doug Mathis of Joppa. Mathis was a "one-man gang" for Joppa in the invitational tourney staged at Equality during the Christmas holidays.

The American's all-star team is picked by the coaches of Illinois, with every coach being contacted and asked to participate, it is said.

Nats, Knicks Clash in Playoff

The Syracuse Nationals and the New York Knickerbockers clash in an afternoon playoff game today for the last berth in the National Basketball Assn. playoffs.

The two teams finished in a tie for third place in the Eastern Division Wednesday night when the Nats, who had been in third, dropped a 122-103 decision to the Boston Celtics in Boston and the Knicks whipped Philadelphia, 115-108, at New York.

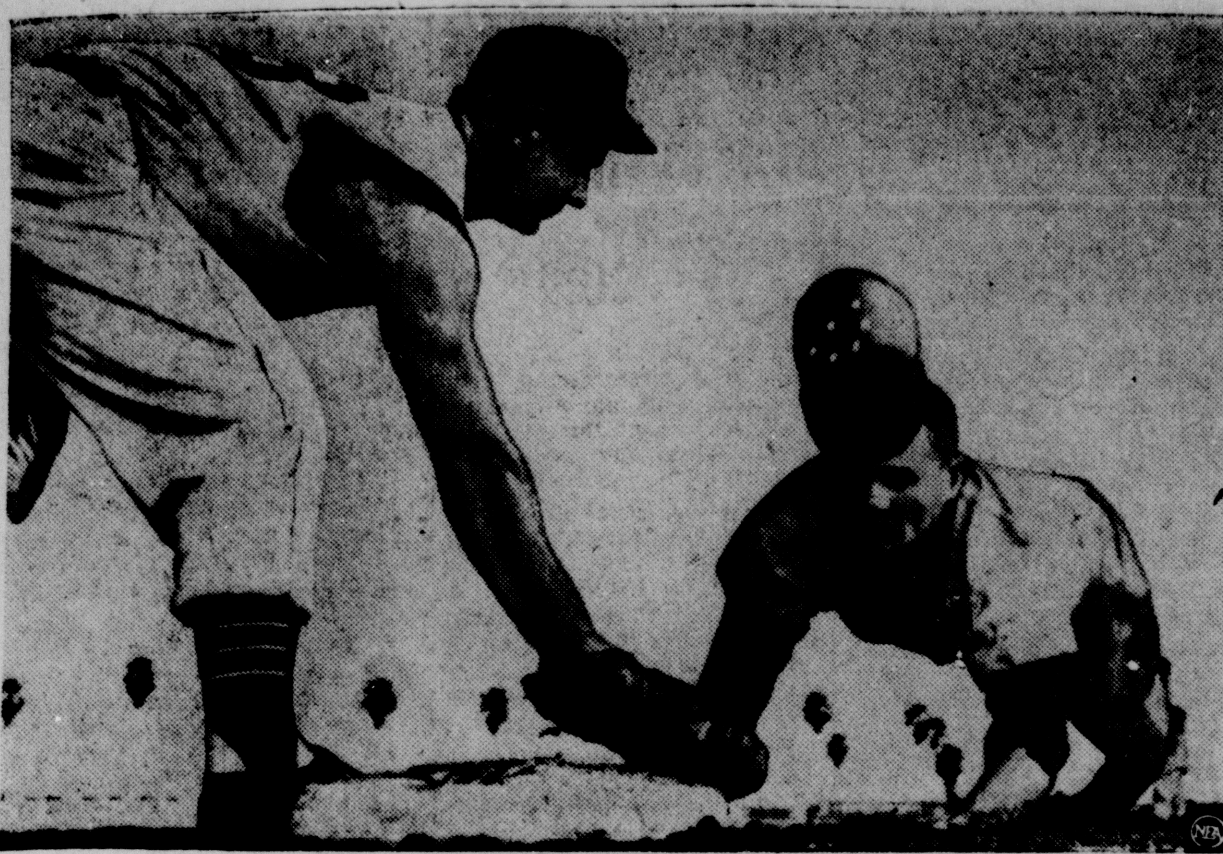

The winner of today's single-game playoff will move into the Eastern Division semi-finals against the Celtics, opening in Boston Saturday afternoon.

DONOVAN HURLS NO-HIT SIX INNINGS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Dick Donovan, right-handed ace of the Chicago White Sox' mound staff, submitted a no-hit pitching performance as proof today that he's ready to shoot for a 20-victory season.

Donovan, who won 15 games last season, faced only 18 batters Wednesday in a six-inning, no-run, no-hit stint as Chicago blanked Charleston of the American Assn., 5-0.

Today the Sox visit the Kansas City Athletics, who bowed Wednesday to Milwaukee, 5-2.

EARLY ACTION—Infielder Rocky Bridges flies back to the bag, losing cap en route, to beat a pickoff peg to first sacker Ted Kluszewski as the Cincinnati Redlegs opened intra-squad games at their Tampa base.

Indianapolis Attacks Favored to Win Indiana Championship

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Four tony-touted teams, each battling a jinx, trot onto the big Butler University fieldhouse floor Saturday with the same idea—to take home Indiana's coveted high school basketball crown.

Defending champion Indianapolis Attacks, which clashes with Terre Haute Gerstmeier in the second afternoon game, was favored to add two more wins to its record 43-game winning streak and become the first undefeated champ.

Two-time winner Lafayette faces Elkhart in the first game.

Edwardsville-Quincy Tilt Friday Afternoon Will Open State Finals

West Frankfort,
West Rockford to Play at 7:30 p. m.

The opening Illinois high school basketball quarter-final between Quincy and Edwardsville Friday figures to be a humdinger.

The two teams met Jan. 7 at Quincy, with the Blue Devils winning 62-56 over Edwardsville. But Quincy seldom loses at home and the Tiger chances should improve on neutral ground.

The quarter-final lineup will be: 1:15 p. m.—Quincy (27-5) vs. Edwardsville (26-5); 2:45 p. m.—Peoria Central (25-4) vs. Oak Park (17-7); 7:30 p. m.—Rockford West (25-1) vs. West Frankfort (21-10); 9 p. m.—Chicago Dunbar (27-2) vs. Rantoul (23-7).

Semifinals Saturday Afternoon

The semifinals will be played Saturday afternoon and the third place and championship games Saturday night.

Neither Quincy nor Edwardsville has exceptional height. The tallest starter will be Governor Vaughn, Edwardsville center at 6-3. All five Quincy starters are 6-2, the same height as Tiger Manny Jackson, high-scoring forward.

Quincy has a team of dead shots, but doesn't figure to match Edwardsville's speed.

On comparative scores, Edwardsville has the edge. The Tigers three times beat Collinsville, which laced Quincy. Quincy beat Belleville by seven points but the Tigers beat Belleville by margins of 18 and 19.

The second quarter-final game will see Peoria Central, a team that has improved steadily since last fall and now is a leading dark-horse contender for state honors.

Saxton Upsets Basilio to Regain Crown

CHICAGO (UP)—Promoter Jim Norris will try to stage a return welterweight title fight between re-crowned Johnny Saxton and Carmen Basilio at the Chicago Stadium in June because of the stormy dispute over Saxton's upset but unanimous victory Wednesday night.

Saxton, a sleek, well-proportioned Brooklyn Negro orphan, became the eighth man in ring history to recapture the 147-pound crown "by flight" just as I planned—stick and move, stick and move.

Weighing 146½ pounds, Basilio's 146, Johnny not only wrested away the title in Carmen's second defense, but he broke the popular Chitengo, N. Y., mauler's unbeaten string at 15.

The dispute and the unexpected large gate of $104,288 paid by 12,145 at the Stadium brought an appreciative gleam to Promoter Norris' eyes today. He said, "Both fought so well that a return bout in June would make a top attraction for Chicago. I'll begin negotiating as soon as possible."

WEBQ to Broadcast NCAA Tourney Finals

The final games of the NCAA basketball tournament at Northwestern university will be broadcast over WEBQ, Manager I. M. Taylor announced today. The tournament now is in progress at various centers throughout the country.

The local station will broadcast the two semifinal games Thursday, March 22, starting at 7:30 p. m., and the championship game at 9 p. m. Friday, March 23.

LOCKMAN AGAIN LEADOFF BATTER

MESA, Ariz. — It looks like veteran Whitey Lockman who's been somewhat overlooked this spring, will be the New York Giants' leadoff batter again this year.

After experimenting with Don Mueller in the No. 1 spot, new Manager Bill Rigney has switched back to Lockman for two straight games. The Giants suffered a 5-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs Wednesday. The Cubs meet the Giants here again today.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

"Duster" Thomas and his Pinckneyville basketball teams certainly have a state-wide reputation and are considered good newspaper "copy." At the West Frankfort-Pinckneyville game Tuesday night, won by WF, I sat next to a photographer from upstate. Everytime Thomas moved the guy was snapping pictures.

"If I got back without some good shots of 'Duster,' my name will be mud," the fellow remarked.

After the game he was in the WF dressing room with all the rest of us trying to get a shot of the winning WF team. Bet the dressing room pictures were all he had of WF.

The annual basketball banquet for the Shawneetown cagers will be held at the American Legion home in Shawneetown Thursday, March 22. The dinner is being sponsored by the Band Parents association. The announcement states it will be a "full turkey dinner" and tickets are $1.25 each.

Track practice has been going on at Eldorado high school, on a limited basis, for the past week. The candidates have been doing some running in the gymnasium and the boys will move outside to the cinder track as soon as the weather permits.

"We have about 35 boys out, but only seven or eight who have experience," a member of the coaching staff said Wednesday. Lindell Lovellette was a consistent point winner in the shot and discus last year. Bob Laffoon also has turned in some good performances in the weights.

Ben Dempsey is expected to score in the dashes and broad jump and Leonard Willis, Roscoe Woods and Bob Watson are good distance runners.

Frank Willis, second in the district mile last year, is in school but has after school employment and isn't expected to run this year.

"This ought to take the pressure off Lubell," a West Frankfort fan volunteered to me Tuesday night as we were leaving the gymnasium following West Frankfort's 45-42 victory over Pinckneyville in the "super-sectional" game.

The fan was referring to WF Coach George Lubell. I had heard throughout the season that the wolves were howling for his hide and asked the talkative fan about it.

"Sure, a bunch have been on his back all year," he declared. As we parted at the doors, he shot back, "This ought to mean he will be back next season." The fan was apparently a friend of George's. But George had lots of friends at that time, come to think of it.

The West Frankfort players, who already had received congratulations from fathers, brothers and other male well wishers in their dressing room, were warmly greeted outside the door by mothers, sisters and other women folk.

As Florian came out the door he was given a big hug by a lady and as he returned the embrace, yelled "Pack our bags Mom, we're going upstate."

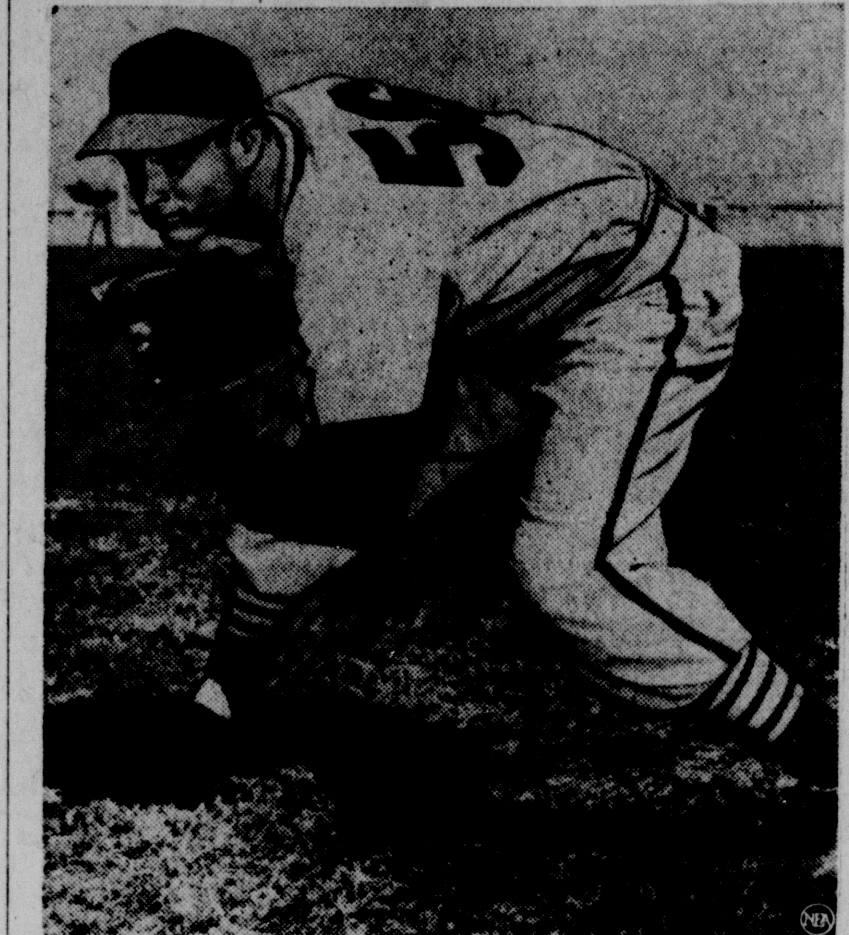

It has been announced that Don Faherty has resigned the post of head basketball coach at Metropolis high school, effective at the end of the present school term. Faherty has held the position for three years and this year his team copied its regional tourney title.

Mizell Acts Like Anything But Dean, But Would Like to Have His Record

Vinegar Bend Mizell

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (NEA) — Wilmer David Mizell is out of the Army and ready for a big year with the Cardinals.

"I hope the big year is ready for me," beams Vinegar Bend, the most talked about pitcher in the Florida Grapefruit League.

Before he went away, the six-foot-three-and-a-half, 214-pound Mizell, now only 25, showed unmistakable signs of greatness, averaging seven strikeouts per game throughout two campaigns with the St. Louis Nationals.

Because of his backwoods background and blazing fast ball, Mizell soon was tagged a "left-handed Dizzy Dean."

Realizing the strapping country boy's tremendous potential, Dean, the radio announcer, hasn't done anything to discourage the appellation.

The truth is, however, that Mizell is about as much like Dizzy Dean as he is the dean of the school of journalism. He's just a large southpaw with rural charm who made the most of a high school education. He has a dry humor, but baseball is anything but a funny business to him.

"Vinegar Bend is in Alabama behind the Mobile post office — 50

NEW YORK (UP) — Bill Russell, the San Francisco star who modestly claims he would be "just another guy on the floor" without the help of teammate K. C. Jones, today was named college basketball's player of the year by the United Press.

The 6-foot-10-inch Russell easily won the honor in balloting by 337 sports writers and broadcasters. He received nearly six times as many votes as any other player, drawing 182 compared to the 34 received by runnerup Robin Freeman of Ohio State. Ronnie Shavlik of North Carolina State was third with 24.

Russell and Jones both won positions on the United Press All-America team last week after helping San Francisco stretch its victory streak to a major college record of 51 games.

"I would be just another guy on the floor if it wasn't for Jones," Russell said. "He is an All-American and one-half. I wouldn't have come close to All-America without him."

Briefs from Training Camps

CARL ERSKINE APPEARS SOUND AGAIN

BRADENTON, Fla. (UP) — The world champion Brooklyn Dodgers now have dropped four out of five spring games, but they're happy because Carl Erskine appears a sound pitcher once again.

Erskine, former ace of the staff, dropped off to an 11-8 record last season with a sore arm. But in his spring debut Wednesday he threw without pain and seemed like his old self as he held the Cincinnati Redlegs hitless for three innings. The Redlegs went on to win, 6-3, on five unearned runs set up by infield errors.

The Milwaukee Braves play host to the Dodgers here today. A homer by Billy Bruton started the Braves on the way to a 5-2 win over Kansas City Wednesday.

HIGGINS ALL SMILES AT PORTERFIELD'S DEBUT

SARASOTA, Fla. (UP) — Bob Porterfield's debut in a Boston Red Sox uniform had manager Mike Higgins wearing a broad smile today. The veteran right-hander, acquired from Washington in a winter trade, held the New York Yankees hitless for three innings Wednesday as Boston went on to a 2-0 triumph.

The Cincinnati Redlegs, fresh from two straight conquests of the Brooklyn Dodgers, visit the Red Sox today. Jack Taylor, Johnny Klippstein, and Art Fowler combined to halt Brooklyn, 6-3, Wednesday.

HANK BAUER WHIFFS THREE MORE TIMES

LAKELAND, Fla. (UP) — Hammer-in' Hank Bauer, one of the Yankees' top players in last season's World Series, is having a tough time getting his eye on the ball this spring.

Bauer, who struck out twice against Boston on Tuesday, whiffed three more times in Wednesday's 2-0 loss to the Red Sox. The Detroit Tigers, who lost to St. Louis, 7-4, Wednesday, meet the Yankees here today.

To Report to New State Division

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A number of southern Illinois communities will report on their industrial potential to Gov. William Stratton and the advisory board of the new Illinois Division of Industrial Planning and Development here Monday evening, March 19.

The Division, under Fred R. Falkenstein, was created during the last session of the state legislature to encourage industrial enterprises to locate in Illinois. "We want to hear from any town with something positive to report that might be of importance to an industry," Falkenstein said today.

Representatives of southern Illinois towns will present data on labor supply, available sites and buildings, public utilities, transportation, housing, schools and other resources at the 7:30 p. m. meeting in Southern Illinois University's Shryock Auditorium. Spokesmen for the various towns will be given opportunity to make brief oral statements at the public meeting and to submit complete reports to Falkenstein in writing.

Chamber of Commerce leaders, city administration officials and others will furnish the new Division with statistics and other information which would be of interest to industrialists looking for new locations. The meeting here will be sponsored jointly by Southern Illinois University, Southern Illinois, Inc., and the advisory board of the new state agency. Southern Illinois members of the advisory board are Oldham Paisley, Marion; Paul C. Dorris, Carterville; and Maurice L. Campbell, Benton.

Local arrangements for the meeting are being handled by William J. Tudor, acting director of SIU's Area Services Office, and Goffrey Hughes, executive secretary of SIU.

Administration Optimistic on U. S. Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration has discarded its somewhat cautious economic outlook for 1956 and now thinks this year may be even better than record-breaking 1955, informed sources said today.

Optimism began to radiate Feb. 29 when President Eisenhower announced he would seek a second term. It glowed brighter this week with two reports. One showed consumer spending plans for this year are apparently bigger than last year when they broke all spending records. And the other indicated business plans a 22 per cent increase over 1955 outlays for new plants and equipment.

Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks commented that the joint report on business spending by the Commerce Department and the Securities & Exchange Commission is "about the best economic news so far this year."

His economic estimates of 1956, issued at the end of 1955, was that this year "... can be a good year—possibly the best." He did not say in his statement of Wednesday that he was prepared to change that cautious view. But he did add that the report indicates "... businessmen have given concrete evidence of their confidence in the president and of their firm belief in a bright future."

Informed sources indicated these developments tended to dispel the cautiousness with which the new year was greeted two months ago after practically all economic records were broken.

First national forest in the U. S. was the Yellowstone park timberland reserve, established by President Harrison in 1891.

Military Plane Reported Missing

CLOVIS, N. M. (AP)—A military plane with at least five and possibly six persons aboard was reported missing today on a flight from Ft. Sill, Okla., to Clovis Air Force Base.

Search planes from Clovis AFB and Civil Air Patrol units from both Lubbock and Amarillo, Tex., planned to search for the missing aircraft as soon as weather permitted.

An overcast with some light snowfall and freezing temperatures was reported through much of the area.

The mole lemming has such long, powerful front teeth that he uses these to dig with instead of his claws.

Dangerous Rise in Middle Eastern Tensions Sparks New Look by U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A dangerous rise in Middle Eastern tensions has sparked a new look at U. S. policies in that area, including the controversial arms-for-Israel question, administration officials reported today.

One indication of new deep-rooted Washington anxiety over the Israeli-Arab dispute was the fact that President Eisenhower, despite his heart attack convalescence, has been working overtime on the problem.

Mendota, Minn., claims the small town jail in the United States—a five-by-five-foot stone building.

HOW COLUMBIA AGRICULTURE LIMESTONE HELPS KEEP YOUR FARM PRODUCTIVE

When you apply COLUMBIA AGRICULTURE LIMESTONE to your farm you accomplish numerous important things at one and the same time.

1. You replace the calcium and magnesium (LIME) which has been lost through cropping.
2. The acid condition of your soil, which has developed as the result of the loss of LIME, is corrected—that is, the soil is "sweetened."
3. The activity of favorable bacteria is stimulated; the decay of organic matter, such as manure straw, roots and stubble, is hastened; and the nitrogen forming processes are promoted.
4. Other plant foods, especially phosphorus, are kept in more available form.
5. Soil structure is improved; heavy clays and silts are made looser and easier to till.

LIME a part of your farm each year. COLUMBIA AGRICULTURE LIMESTONE will return at least $3.00 for each $1.00 invested in your liming program. Your COLUMBIA AGLIME DEALER is:

U.S. Losing Prestige On Race Question, Billy Graham Says

CHICAGO (UP)—Evangelist Billy Graham, fresh from an eight-week tour of the Far East, said Wednesday night that "the race question in the United States is causing a great deal of loss of prestige abroad."

This is "especially true" in the case of disturbances at the University of Alabama, where riots broke out over a Negro woman's attempt to enroll, Graham told a news conference.

"The evangelist said that the U. S. racial problem has "become a matter for prayer" and "the time has come for the church to take the lead."

"I would like to see northern churches take the lead because the vast majority of them are segregated—I don't care what they say," Graham said.

"It is no use saying we are Christians without practicing it," Graham said. But he added "there is a need to go slow in the matter of relations between the races."

Planned Capital South Carolina's capital city of Columbia is one of the few planned state capitals in the nation. Site of the city was picked out and many of the streets laid out before construction of any type was started.

Stengel Questions Eisenhower Defense Policies; Stratton Hails Nixon Vote

By United Press
Democratic Richard Stengel Wednesday questioned the Eisenhower administration's defense economics.

Stengel, candidate for the U. S. Senate, told an audience at Dixon that former Army Chief of Staff Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway has "charged that politics and not military necessity has been the determining factor in setting up the defense budget in the Eisenhower administration."

He said the "desire to cut our defense spending is common to all of us," but that "the only way to deal with the Soviets is from a position of strength."

"We cannot talk in terms of 'massive retaliation' at the same time we are reducing our armed might at home," Stengel said.

Hails Write-In for Nixon
Republican Gov. William G. Stratton, meanwhile, hailed the write-in vote for Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the New Hampshire primary as "an overwhelming vote of confidence where it counts most—the ballot box."

Stratton, speaking at the annual St. Patrick's Day dinner of the Cass County Republican Committee at Beardstown, said the write-in vote for Nixon was "typical of American sentiment for a tried and trusted public official."

He said Nixon "has worked in perfect harmony as an ambassador of good will and as an able leader on President Eisenhower's team."

President Eisenhower endorsed him unequivocally and now the people of New Hampshire have taken time to add their endorsement of him."

Urges More School Aid
Other Democratic candidates active on the campaign trail Wednesday included Herbert C. Paschen, organization choice for governor, Michael J. Howlett, candidate for state auditor, and Morris B. Sachs, who is backing Paschen and the organization for the gubernatorial nomination.

Sachs said in a statement at Chicago that school districts with "inadequate tax yield" must have more state aid. But he stressed there was a danger of too much government intervention with the schools.

"My experience has been that when money is given, control is surrendered," he said.

Paschen, also speaking about schools, charged Stratton has turned his back on a school shortage. He said Stratton has regarded the school shortage as localized in the Chicago suburbs, but he said a shortage also exists in Winnebago, St. Clair, Sangamon, Du Page, Will, Lake and Macon counties.

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for state auditor, said at Chicago the Republican administration should "let the people know" how long funds allotted to the Illinois Public Aid Commission for 1955-57 will last.

Howlett noted reports the IPAC will run out of money by the end of the year, and said if a special legislative session to appropriate more money "is delayed too long, poor people all over Illinois will have their food budgets cut."

Attlee Says U. S. Apt to Let Britain Carry on Fight

LONDON (U.P.)—Earl Attlee said today the United States is "apt to stand on the sidelines and leave us to carry on the fight" in the troubled Middle East.

The former Labor prime minister, in his maiden speech before the House of Lords, added his denunciations voiced Wednesday by Aneurin Bevan in Commons.

"I sometimes feel, with all friendliness to our American friends, that they are a little apt to stand on the sidelines and leave us to carry on the fight," Attlee said in commenting on the Cyprus dispute and other pressing problems in the Middle East.

His words reflected British resentment at the American attitude toward Britain's crackdown on extremist pro-Greek elements on the restless island of Cyprus.

Green Bedroom Suite Sent to Grace Kelly
By St. Patrick Group

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (U.P.)—Grace Kelly, America's No. 1 Irish bride-to-be, was sent a green bedroom suite from the nation's furniture capital today by the friendly sons of St. Patrick.

"Grace is a fine Irish girl and the best is none too good for her," John S. Casey, president of the Grand Rapids Chapter of the Friendly Sons, said.

The friendly sons decided on a "wedding present for Grace" campaign as its main project for St. Patrick's day this year.

"We thought it was a suitable project because Miss Kelly's father, John, is active in the Philadelphia chapter where the group's international headquarters are located," Casey said.

Lebanon Gov't Resigns
BEIRUT, Lebanon (U.P.)—The Lebanon government resigned today.

Premier Hashid Karami submitted his cabinet's resignation to President Camille Chamoun in a move that had been expected.

The 34-year-old premier told parliament he decided on the move after four ministers left the cabinet earlier today in protest over government policies.

Vote to Continue Dual Parity for Supports

again by both branches of Congress before it is sent to the White House.

Votes on the main remaining controversial issues—the dual parity formula and an increase in minimum support price for dairy products—were delayed by a political donnybrook Wednesday over the school milk program.

"Charge Low Politics"
An amendment to extend the program for two years, Republicans loudly and bitterly charged "low politics."

The GOP senators said the program was being included primarily to use as a trading point in a later attempt to get 90 percent price supports back in the legislation.

However, the Senate ended up by voting unanimously for the amendment. It would authorize expenditure of 75 million dollars annually for the next two years for the school milk program and 20 million dollars a year for control of Bang's disease in cattle.

A proposal to include potatoes and other basic farm crops in surplus supply in the acreage reserve phase of the soil bank was defeated. Another rejected amendment would have provided for supporting dairy prices at 90 percent of parity.

Quarles Says AF May Need Larger Budget

BOSTON (U.P.)—Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles said today the Air Force's budget for the 12 months beginning July 1, 1956, may have to be increased to bring the service to full combat strength.

He conceded that the 16½-billion-dollar budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1, is "austere." But he said it is "sound" and will provide the Air Force with enough power to deter possible Communist aggression.

Quarles indirectly criticized Democratic criticism of the Air Force's budget for fiscal 1957 in a speech prepared for delivery before the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Some Democrats, led by Sens. Stuart Symington of Missouri and Henry M. Jackson of Washington have complained that the administration has cut Air Force funds in the face of growing Soviet air power.

Quarles mentioned no possible spending figure for fiscal 1958, but he said "we must make our arrangements on the basis of what we need, not solely on what the other side has. We have never felt the need to match them plane for plane."

He said "our deterrent position is indeed broadly based," with a stockpile of atomic and hydrogen weapons "which are unmatched in quantity and quality anywhere in the world." He also said the United States has the means to deliver such weapons on an enemy target.

Quarles said recent talk about a long-range intercontinental ballistic missile being the "ultimate weapon" has been "overdrawn and misleading."

Seven Men Indicted on Charges of Kickbacks, Vacations in Jet Contracts

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (U.P.)—Seven men faced charges of fraud against the government today in an indictment alleging kickbacks and gifts of money and Florida vacations in procurement of about one million dollars in contracts with the Westinghouse jet engine plant here.

Two of those named were assistant buyers for Westinghouse at the time of the transactions. They are James Edward Hanis, 26, Kansas City, and Joseph Thomas Somers, Los Angeles.

Others named in indictments returned Wednesday by a federal grand jury were Robert Ward Graddy, 30, owner of Products Engineering Corp. of Tulsa, Okla.; Edward Thomas McCabe, 35, officer of the Midwest Engineering Co., Kansas City; Frank A. Nelson, president, and Jesse Wilbur Berry, vice president of Repro-Tone Co., Kansas City; and Robert Early Lukens, 43, Stilwell, Okla., president of La-Corp Machine & Tool Co.

The Products Engineering and Midwest Engineering firms, an indictment said, supplied equipment used in the finishing of jet engines under prime contracts between the Navy and Westinghouse.

Hanis, Graddy and McCabe were charged with 20 counts in one true bill. It was alleged Hanis was given one-third of 200 shares of stock with which the Products firm was incorporated.

The indictment alleged the stock was given in return for "guaranteeing that the corporation would be afforded offers to bid on Westinghouse jobs."

Later, it alleged, Graddy purchased back the stock with a promissory note for $40,000, payable in monthly installments of $500 starting July 1, 1955. A $10,000 balance, the true bill stated, was to be paid on the 61st month.

The indictment also alleged Graddy paid for transportation and traveling expenses for Hanis from Tulsa to Miami Beach and return.

One of the largest amounts in the allegations involved a transaction in November, 1954, when Hanis approved payment of $152,691 by Westinghouse to Midwest Engineering for about $25,000 in items and for packaging of them by McCabe.

The indictment alleged of that amount, McCabe paid Hanis and his parents $65,450.

An indictment against Somers, Berry and Nelson alleged Somers was given 11 payments totalling about $5,000 in kickbacks from Nelson and Berry from September, 1953, to June, 1954.

Lukens was named in a 20-count indictment for presenting to the government "false and fraudulent claims for work done by his company" at the Westinghouse plant.

Scientist Says Man is Partly to Blame for Increase in Hurricanes

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—A scientist suggests that man himself may be partly to blame for the recent jump in the number of hurricanes that hit the East Coast.

This was brought out in testimony, released today, at hearings before a House Appropriations subcommittee on U. S. scientific plans for the 1957-58 International Geophysical Year (IGY).

Dr. Roger R. Revelle, director of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography in California, said IGY scientists will study the increasing carbon dioxide content of the atmosphere and the seas to determine its effect on climate.

Fuel-burning man is adding "tremendous quantities of carbon dioxide in the air," he said, and "lots of people" think this may "cause a remarkable change in climate" by raising atmospheric temperatures.

Revelle assured inquiring subcommittee members that carbon dioxide, a waste product of fuel burning, is not directly harmful to man and does not contribute to smog.

But "the increase in the number of hurricanes on the East Coast," he added, "is certainly tied in one way or the other with the general northward movement of the warm air."

The subcommittee was asked to put up $28 million, in addition to $12 million already appropriated, to finance U. S. participation in the 55-nation IGY. This is a worldwide program to get new knowledge about the earth and space.

Nehru Invited To Visit U. S. By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—U. S. officials hoped today that a visit by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India might improve deteriorating relations between the United States and the largest democracy in the Far East.

The White House announced Wednesday night that President Eisenhower has invited Nehru to visit him here. The date for the proposed visit was not set and Nehru's reaction was not disclosed. But diplomatic circles considered his acceptance likely.

A United Press dispatch from New Delhi said Nehru had accepted the invitation in principle but that details were not discussed.

An Indian official said a visit this year was extremely unlikely since Nehru has indicated he believed it would be improper to visit the United States during an American election campaign.

The administration has made no secret of its desire to keep India, with its 360 million people, from slipping into the Communist orbit. The recent highly successful tour of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev through India caused considerable alarm here.

To counter this, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles took off on a goodwill tour of the Far East. Assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder said Dulles extended the President's invitation to Nehru in New Delhi last Friday.

Storm System Floods Rivers in West Virginia

By United Press
A double-barreled storm system flooded rivers in West Virginia and blew into New England with heavy snows today.

Two more storms teamed up in the West, where wind-driven snows moved southward out of Wyoming. From 3 to 4 inches fell from Denver southward in Colorado and delayed an Air Force mercy plane carrying a dying Indian girl to a hospital.

The West Virginia rains totaled 2.37 inches during 24 hours. Dozens of small streams went over their banks, flooding cellars, and earth slides and high water blocked several highways.

Some schools were closed because students couldn't get to them. Although the worst of the rains were over today, an Ohio River crest of 41.5 feet, 1½ feet above flood stage, was expected at Point Pleasant, W. Va.

To the north, Syracuse, N. Y., got 7 inches of snow in 6 hours and from 3 to 4 inches of snow fell in a belt from Lower Michigan northward into New England.

POTTERY MAKING, A NEW ADDITION TO THE ART CLASSES OF THE HARRISBURG JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL—Added to the curriculum of the Harrisburg Junior high school this year was a class in pottery making, a part of the art course, taught by Mrs. Marie Bauman. The class, one of the electives, has attracted a large number of students and some outstanding work has been completed. An electrically-fired kiln was purchased at the start of the 1955-56 school year, making the class possible. The students now complete all phases of pottery making, from wedging the clay, forming the article, glazing and baking. In the above picture, center, are a number of pots, pitchers and other pottery articles. The ones in the foreground are complete. In the back are several drying before being glazed and kiln dried. In lower left photo students are wedging the clay. On the right, front to rear, Bernie Shewmake, Deon Patton and Peggy Riddle, at

The Daily Register, Harrisburg, Illinois Page One, Section Two Thursday, March 15, 1956 Reports on Red Cross Fund Drive Made At Meeting of Chapter Board of Directors

The board of directors of the Saline county chapter of the American Red Cross met on March 14 with J. Ward Barnes, chapter chairman, presiding. Ralph Bean, fund drive chairman in Eldorado, Jack Large, fund drive chairman in Galatia, and Mrs. James Gardner, fund drive chairman in Rector township, were guests at the meeting.

John R. Murphy stated a $1,000 contribution had been received from Sahara Coal company. Of this amount $700 was designated for the Saline County Red Cross Blood Program and the balance of $300 for the general county fund drive. The total amount turned in to date is $3,000. Included in this amount is $1,000 reported by Mr. Bean for Eldorado. Mr. Murphy stated that due to the illness of Roy Staiger, the chairman in Harrisburg could turn their worker sheets and funds in to him at the office of the county superintendent of schools in the court house.

The window displays and the thermometers in Harrisburg and Eldorado were arranged by Mrs. H. B. Bauman, Mrs. Ethel Mathias, Mrs. Scerrial Thompson, Ralph Bean and Bernard Tanner. The Junior Red Cross members from the Harrisburg Township high school, Eldorado Township high school and Harrisburg Junior high school made the thermometers, the 75th birthday cake and other articles, under the direction of Mrs. Bauman, Mrs. Mathias, C. B. Rotterdam and Gene Parkhurst.

Radio Station WEBQ, Television Station WSLI, and all four newspapers in Saline county have given the Red Cross Fund Drive wonderful support and Mr. Murphy stated with their help and with very active chairmen in all the townships that he feels Saline county may reach its goal this year. Mr. Murphy also stated that any one missed in the canvass can mail their contributions to him in care of the Red Cross office.

Mrs. Dora Slater from the St. Louis Regional Blood Center talked at the meeting. The possibility of establishing a planning board composed of representatives of all organizations in the county was discussed since the Blood Program is the responsibility of every individual and organized group.

A report was made for Louie Beltz, First Aid chairman, that the first aid classes were now being taught in the Harrisburg Township high school, Eldorado Township high school, and the Harrisburg Junior high school. John Murphy, Junior Red Cross chairman, announced that first aid text books were being furnished for the library of any school in the county, with enrolled classes in first aid taught by a certified Red Cross first aid instructor, by the Junior Red Cross.

Morris Assures 15-Year Building Program at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. — President Delyte W. Morris of Southern Illinois university has assured contractors and labor representatives that "the university's building program will be pushed forward continuously for the next 15 years."

The remarks were made at a luncheon here attended by labor and construction men working on new residence halls, an agriculture building and incomplete portions of the new library on the SIU campus.

Morris price-tagged campus construction carried over from the last biennium and presently under contract at $8,404,000, but said, "Our present program is only a beginning." Citing an expected enrollment increase of 500-1,000 by next fall, he pointed out that "Our building program is actually losing ground."

Calling the SIU building program "the largest construction project underway in southern Illinois," Morris said, "It is particularly important that we get together like this, realizing that we must work together to assure the future of the university and the area."

The president thanked contractors for patience under the pressure of tight deadlines, and cited "very few exceptions" to a no-strike agreement with labor six years ago.

Contracts to be open for bids soon, Morris said, include sanitary sewer and water lines to SIU's Thompson's Point residence unit; completion of library work; animal houses and a green house for the Life Science building; site development at University School, the Life Science building and the library; and furnishings for Thompson's Point units and the agriculture building.

The SIU president said the school "will be completing arrangements within a month" for a $3,355,000 bond sale to further the construction program. The bonds would be retired through rent and dining-hall income at Thompson's Point.

Predicting an enrollment of 12,000 by 1965, Morris stressed the "urgent, drastic need" for buildings at SIU. "Obviously," he said, "that will mean a continued program of construction."

Morris urged the luncheon guests to promote SIU's requirements in their own communities and organizations. At his suggestion, the group voted to hold semi-annual meetings beginning next fall.

Complete information may be obtained from the Commission or at local offices of the State Employment Service.

Van Horn was unbuttoning Frank Osborn's shirt. "It's the lungs we want," he said to Dr. Martingale, "and the heart and perhaps the brain. The big scalpel first, please. Prepare to take notes."

Dr. Martingale handed him a sharp glittering instrument, and then stood poised with a pad of paper and a pencil. Johnson, the caretaker, stood at my right, watching silently.

Van Horn began to speak slowly and distinctly. "The body is that of an adult male. It is quite short, being slightly over five feet in length—we'll check that later, Jerry. It has been embalmed in the right axillary region and trocarred in the left upper abdominal area. It is amazingly well preserved. The face reveals the application of cosmetics, presumably in preparation for burial. The forehead, temples and cheeks reveal some discoloration. The hair is black and quite long and loose."

I listened like a man in a dream to Dr. Van Horn's guttural flat dictation. Dr. Martingale wrote rapidly on the pad. The sun was low, almost gone. Soon it would be dark, with the swift darkness that comes to the hills. A brief twilight, and then blackness. I hoped Dr. Van Horn would be finished soon, but I knew it wasn't over yet, not for a while. He hadn't used the scalpel yet, and he'd want the body out of the casket for that.

Dr. Van Horn's impersonal voice went on. "The skin of the fingers and hands is easily denuded. The fingers show some wasting, although there is no marked clubbing. . . . Van Horn paused and turned away from the casket. "Jerry, we'd better get him out now and remove his clothes. Help me." He peered over my head at the caretaker. "Will you get those supports and planks, please?" "They're right here," Johnson moved quickly, set up two sawhorses and placed three broad wooden planks across them. "There you are." He stepped back.

"Thank you," Van Horn said. Dr. Martingale laid his notebook and pencil on the grass and stepped to the side of the casket. Gently the two men lifted the slight body to the planks. Van Horn removed the clothes he'd unbuttoned and laid them carefully on the edge of the casket. Frank Osborn's body was white and thin, like the body of a starved child. Van Horn picked up the scalpel. "Jerry, take this down before I start. Then I'll dictate as we go along. Ready?"

"Yep," Dr. Martingale stood beside him, his pencil poised. Van Horn spoke quickly in a toneless voice, as if he were repeating from memory, which he probably was. "The body is opened by two curved incisions extending from the acromioclavicular articulation to the pubic spines. The entire anterior flap is elevated and the viscera inspected." He paused and peered at the young doctor, smiling faintly. "Did you get those big words, Jerry?"

"Sure. I know 'em from memory. Standard autopsy procedure."

"Good boy," Van Horn grunted. I figured it was a good time to leave and I said, "The sun will be down in a few minutes. I'll get the lantern." I started down the slope toward the car and it was then I heard the roar of a car coming up the cemetery drive. I stopped and waited. In a second Sheriff Abner Cornwall's automobile bounced over the crest of the slope and rocked to a squealing stop behind Dr. Van Horn's car. The sheriff got out, slammed the door and strode toward me. In the slanting sun his eyes looked like red marbles. Behind him Horace, the deputy, got out from behind the wheel and stood watching. The sheriff stopped five feet away from me, but I could smell the rich fumes of his sunflower. A gun belt slanted over his lean hips beneath his loose seersucker coat. "Bennett," he snarled, "warned you."

"Shut up," I told him. "Keep out of this. What are you doing here, anyhow? I told you it was scheduled for tomorrow."

"Tricked me," he cried shrilly.

"A double-cross, but I nabbed you. Fellow works for the cemetery was having his supper in Beech Tree. He tipped me off. He told me what was going on out here, and I aim to stop it." He glared at me. "You can't stop it." From the corner of an eye I saw that the two doctors were watching us silently, and I motioned to them. "Go ahead."

The sheriff waved an arm wildly toward the open grave and the pale slight body of Frank Osborn. "Tell 'em to stop, right now! You gotta put Frank back in his grave, where he belongs. It ain't legal, and I'm the law here, don't forget that."

Dr. Van Horn's guttural voice called to me. "What is the meaning of this, Bennett? You said that all arrangements had been made." "They have," I said, without taking my gaze from the sheriff. "This is just a slight technicality and I can handle it. Please proceed." As I spoke I saw that the sun was gone now, buried beyond the woods in the west. Already it was cool and abruptly it was twilight in the hills, and soon it would be black dark. But there was still light enough for me to see the rage in the sheriff's eyes.

"Bennett," he grated. "I hate to do this, but there ain't any choice." His right hand reached back for the holster at his hip. (To Be Continued)

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

The combined efforts in recent years of various groups such as automobile manufacturers, state legislatures, and safety organizations have brought about the addition of safety devices to the later model automobiles. All parties concerned realize that recently developed safety devices if installed in automobiles can substantially reduce the number of fatal accidents.

Some such aids in the battle to reduce the waste of lives on our highways have already been incorporated into the models now on the road. And the auto industry has announced its desire to continue to work for a safer vehicle—one which will better protect the driver and passengers in the event of an accident.

These strides forward are indeed encouraging signs. But, one thing must be remembered. No matter how safe the manufacturers are able to make their vehicles, it is still the duty of the motorist to prevent an accident!

DON'T FORGET THE PEDESTRIAN

No matter how many new safety devices are added to vehicles, each driver must continue to heed the rules of the road, to drive with caution and courtesy if he is to avoid an accident. And safety devices in the car will not save the life of a pedestrian if struck down on a highway.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

To Conduct Grade School Drive to Aid Crippled Children

James N. Porter, executive secretary of the Southern Illinois Illinois Association for the Crippled, Inc., the Easter Seal Society, reports that the grade schools of Harrisburg, Eldorado and Carrier Mills will conduct a school drive for funds for crippled children sometime during the period of enport, Jack Drone, Rosemary Drone, Hobart Ellis, Yvonne Eubanks, Amy Grace, Alfred Gurnel, Billy Hayes, Bobby Lowe, Andrew Murphy.

Jack Nolan, Mary Jo Oldham, Otis Oxford, Marvin Phillips, Jenny Lu Scates, Raymond Scherrer, Nancy Scherrer, Peggy Sheets, Bob Stewart, Pat Suddoth, Mitchell Thrallkill, and Barbara Whitler.

March 19 and April 10, 1956.

Porter wishes to make clear to the public that this program is confined to the individual child and family and that there is to be no authorized solicitation by the children in business places or door to door.

Porter also reports that the educational value of the school fund raising program is very high. Many children are referred to the Southern Illinois Association for the Crippled, Inc. as a result of school campaigns.

Porter also reports that over 90% of the funds raised by the Easter Seal Society remain in Illinois for services to both crippled children and adults. The program is conducted strictly on a volunteer basis of giving.

Two of the most important phases of the society's service at the present time are the crippled children's camp, and a speech and hearing treatment center.

State to Destroy More Records

SPRINGFIELD — Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today announced 16 more tons of state records will be destroyed as a result of a state records study.

The records study was authorized by the 1955 Legislature and the National Records Management Council of New York was hired for the project.

Carpenter said the latest authorization for destruction of records concerns records in the Civil Service Commission, and the Departments of Public Health, Agriculture and Aeronautics.

Modern record keeping is being substituted for voluminous files.

Benefit Singing at Carrier Mills on March 24 for Benefit Providence Church

On Saturday, March 24, at 7:30 p. m. there will be a benefit singing at the Carrier Mills grade school gym for the purpose of raising money to build a basement for the Providence church.

The church formerly stood empty for many years because so many of the original members moved away when farms were sold to coal companies. Now, thanks to a very young couple, the church is in use again and is a credit to the community.

The larger portion of credit goes to Wendell Holmes and his family, who re-opened the doors on July 6, 1952. For two years there was only a very small attendance, but through persistence and successful revivals the church now is averaging about 50 in Sunday school each Sunday with regular church services twice each month.

In August of 1955 the Sunday school purchased a bus which picks up children each Sunday and is always full to capacity. About three fourths of the attendance is grade and high school boys and girls from Carrier Mills and surrounding communities.

With this large attendance more class rooms are needed.

Quartets and other special singers are donating their time and talent to the church for the benefit program. Some of the quartets to participate in the singing are Harmony Echoes of West Frankfort, Egyptaires, Harrisburg, Pathfinders, Marion, and many others.
